

My first thought was wow! When I stepped inside, I saw the tall pillars. I started tearing up! There is a new chapter waiting for me. My first and favourite activity was 'Have your say'. We had a laugh and wrote about things we would change. Joseph would have more food festivals and I would stop pollution. Then we did some more activities. The part I was so excited for was the singing. Sara and I were shouting! My heart opened up like a community.
